CONFESSING TO PERJURY.

REMARKABLE CHANGE OF A WITNESS.

Four indictments charging Morris Splegel, a liquor erchant at No. 101 Broad st., with presenting fals.

laims to insurance companies were found on Friday

chiefly on the testimony of Arthur Blais, his book teeper. Yesterday Blats made an affidavit declaring that his statements were a tissue of lies, and had been made on account of the threats of Assistant District-Afterney Francis L. Wellman. The bookkeeper said that he was suffering from "fright and absent-minded ness" when he told his story to Mr. Wellman, Super Intendent Byrnes, Chief Inspector steers and others a Police Headquarters, and that he remained under this spell long enough to go to the General Sessions Budld-ing and to repeat his declarations to District Attorney Nicoli and again to the Grand Jury.

proof of losses made by the was a correct inventory of the goods as found after the fire. There has been, to my personal knowledge, he attempt made by Mr. Splend to defraud the insurance companies in any manner by giving instructions to me to after the tooks or to anybody eise employed by the firm, to my knowledge. During the time I was bookkeeper there, one Joseph Stern was employed as assistant bookkeeper; also, as thiston House clerk, George Landre, who has proved to be dishonest. The statements made yesterday were made in a state of fear and absent mindedness, and the person who fright-ened me into making them was Mr. Wellman, who told me that unless I made the statements I would be placed in jail under nine indictments and be put under $15,000 bondy.

that the book had been in existence before the fire.

Mr. Wellman was indignant at Blals's change of base

He said : "There was no duress in the case whatever.

District-Attorney Nicoll contradicted the bookkeeper with equal positiveness, saying: "Why, Blais came trict Attorney. I also saw the statement written down as he made it. No force was used and no threats were made. He said what he had to say voluntarily."

Detective Von Gerichten went to the store with Spiegel on Friday night to get the books of the firm. They were not in the safe. An office boy said that in the afternoon, while spiegel and Blats were away, a man, who said he came from the District Attorney's office, had taken the books. Mr. Wellman says he has copies of the books and can convict Spiegel in Spite of Blats's strange behavior.

A warrant for the arrest of Blats has been issued.

YALE'S ATHLETES NOT FAR BEHIND.

RECORDS BROKEN IN THE INTERCOLLEGIATE

GAMES AT MANHATTAN FIELD. Numerous bruised and incerated limbs, many bad of the seventeenth annual field meeting of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes at Munhat-tan Field yesterday. About 4,000 people saw them, Princeton and New-York were well represented and when any of their favorites scored points they did not fall to let anybody within a radius of half a mile of the grounds know how they felt about it. Amherst, Corell, Fordham, Hobart, Lafayette, Lehigh, Rutgers, Stevens, Swarthmore, Trinity, Union and Williams colleges also hand a fair following among the spec-tators. Yale and Harvard turned out with their tators. Yale and Harvard turned out with their usual large number, but Columbia had the most adsirers of any college represented, as was demonstrated the college yells were given. Columbia's colors were everywhere, but she did not carry off the honors. Harvard's men captured the majority of the contests. points, by 10. Princeton came next, and Columbia and to be contented with fourth place.

The association could not have asked for a asant day. The results, too, were most satisfactory was remarkable, as he heat the intercollegiate and the collegiate records were broken. This was the one-mile walk, and the performance of the winner was remarkable, as he beat the inter-collegiate ord by ten seconds. F. A. Borcherling, of Princemile in 6 minutes 52 1-5 seconds.

In one of the field contests, too, a record was broken. In the running high jump the inter-collegiate record of six feet was beaten by a half inch by G. R. Fearing, of Harvard. The collegiate record, however, is 6 feet 4 inches.

The two-mile bloycle race proved to be the most exciting of the day, and several of the riders had narrow escapes from being badly crippled, if not killed. It was run off in heats, as there were so many entries. In the first heat six riders started. Fortunately they were all mounted on safety machines and they did not have to fall when the time came. The six riders were bunched close together until next to the last lap. Then C. S. Fox, of Yale, spurted ahead and set a lively pace. The riders were probably going as fast as at any time during the race, when V. E. Watkins, of Georgetown, attempted to reach the inside of the track. He was the outside rider, and as he turned his wheel he ran into the nearest man and every machine, with the exception of the one in the lead, ridden by the Yale man, toppled over. The riders slid along over the hard ground for a number of feet. One wheel rode the five contestants either pulled themselves or were dragged out of the mass of broken machines there vere plenty of lacerated, bleeding and bruised limbs to show that the riders were demaged as well as the bleycles. The fall was directly in front of the grandstand, and the spectators had a good opportunity to see what a real "header" looks like.

The most serious accident of the day took place when the final heat of the 220-yard hurdle race wa being run off. There were so many entries in this that four beats had to be run before the final was reached. A. D. Erskine, of Yale, was one of the winners in the trial heats and as he made better time in these four contests than any of the other winners his chances for capturing first prize were good. started from the lower end of the grounds with the ther three contestants and was running a close econd when the fourth hurdle was reached.

THE TERRIBLE FORCE OF A TORNADO AT HAR-PER, KAN.

Hutchinson, Kan., May 28.-At 7:04 o'clock last night a terrible tornado burst upon Harper. A cloud from the East and one from the West seemed to meet directly over the city, accompanied by a deluge of rain and hall. Nearly all the business houses of the city were either totally destroyed or badly twisted. Both the Santa Fe and Atchison and Southern stations were entirely blown away. The end was blown out of a fine school building, a church wrecked and many residences were ruined. Patterson's Hotel was blown down and the opera house and roller mill destroyed William Stevenson had his neck broken. Seven deaths are reported and many are badly injured. All communication was cut off for twelve miles and wires are down yet, messages being sent from *Cleve-land, twelve miles north. The track of the storm was from a mile to a mile and a half wide. At Rugo, nineteen miles north of Harper, there was

From The Boston Advertiser.

In the present month and in the early days of June the exodus to the seashore is most noticeable, and the tenantiess houses in the city greatly increase in number. The work of getting away to the seashore is not an easy one. Aside from the mere task of engaging an abiding place for the summer outing, the labor of preparing for the summer often really overtaxes the strongth of many housekeepers, especially as it is too often begun some time after the campaign of spring cleaning. Others very unwhely postpone the "spring cleaning," Others very unwhely continued the family have returned from their summer vacation. Perhaps the wiser plan would be to adopt Miss Parloa's sensible suggestions relative to making the spring, the time of house cleaning, Cleaningests is traily "the great sufeguard acainst moths and other pests," and if the house is thoroughly cleaned just before it is left for the summer, the work to be done in the authmn may be rendered much lighter and easier.

When the summer clothes have all been prepared, therefore, and the time is at hand for the summer outing, the work of spring cleaning may very properly be made the immediate preliminary to the summer flight. The carpets can be taken up and thoroughly cleaned, and the wood-work can be scourged so that it may be ready for the summer quiet. Such furnitures is to be moved can then be sent away and the packing of all articles away from moths can be undertaken. It is advisable in many instances to store all draperies in bundles until the close of summer, while carpets may be treated beneficially with napoliha if care is taken to prevent any accidents from the use of that rolatile liquid. The objects of greater value, not to be taken away for summer use, can be stored in aftery vaults. The slight expense entalled by such a course is hardly to be condered in comparison with game, which the former won easily by

IN THE POLITICAL FIELD.

GARRET A. HOBART FOR HARRISON. THE VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE NATIONAL COM-MITTEE SPEAKS PLAINLY AND FORCIBLY. "The Paterson (N. J.) Press" vesterday contained an interview with Garret A. Hobart, vice-chalrman of the Republican National Committee. The following that you are for Mr. Blaine, and in favor of his nom since 1876 I have been his admirer and friend. I am so good a friend of his that I am willing to take his word. He said he was not a candidate, that his name would not be presented at the convention as a canknew his obligations as an honorable man dential family, trusted, confided in; and every condition exists to-day that existed then. His word given, and it has been accepted by Mr. Biaine's best He knew the pressure would come; he relieved the situation voluntarily. He could not do otherwise and remain a member of the Cabinet. Now, as a clean-handed, apright statesman, he cannot yield to friends nor join hands with his former enemies. He has an obligation to perform to others which he cannot avoid, trickster, nor will be ever mislend others. I think better of him than some of his other friends. I be-fleve in his word and in his honor. He is not a candidate for the office, and if he was, all know that he is not fit physically to make the fight. There is no manly, straightforward way by which he can become a candidate, without doing violence to every honorable The sober sense of the country would resent it, in my opinion."

"Do you think that the name of Blaine could stampede the convention? "Certainly not. Its delegates are there for a pur pose, with a single aim, to do the best thing for the Republican party. To believe that their views are to be changed by clamor or noise, or disturbance for one man or another, or by a disturbance of a whole audi-torium full of people, is nonsense. Delegates as a rule are over twenty-one, and know what they are ent for. Those who are instructed for General Harrison will vote for him. Those who are instructed for others will vote as they are requested, and those as the political conditions require in their respective

I take it, then, Mr. Hobart, that you do not think Mr. Blaine a candidate at this time? Will you tell us whom you favor, and why?"

I favor the nomination of Prerison, because in my opinion he is at once the best and the strongest man. His Administration, on every manded universal respect. All recognize in him a wise, dignified, patriotic and exceedingly able Execu-As a Republican he embodies all the cardinal principles of his party. His Administration has been onducted more nearly on the lines of his party platform than any other Administration of the last decade. The amount of p-stive and affirmative work done by Congress and the President durdone by Congress and the President durling Mr. Harrison's term is unusually large.
To set aside the pure, able and conscientions President, who has merited such general praise from hisparty, would not only be an act of political ingratitude, but one of political folly. The party has reason to be proud of its President and of the work of his Administration; why should it defiberately strip itself of that advantage in the coming contest! There is a large percentage of citizens who vote only in a Presidential year. They are not strong party men, but vote on what at the time appears to them the safest side. I believe those men will be with us if we nominate Harrison. The conservative men of the country admire him because he is somewhat independent of the domination of party managers. That very quality, while it accounts for some of the present opposition to him, will in case of his nomination be found to be an element of great strength in the canvass."

SEVEN ESCAPED CONVICTS' DESPERATE FIGHT Jackson, Miss., May 28 (Special).-Perhaps the most sensational affair that ever occurred in Jackson was the escape of seven desperate white convicts from the penticutiary this evening, and their subsequent recap-ture. The convicts fooled the doorkeeper into opening the ponderous iron door, overpowered him, sup-plied themselves with Winchesters and pistois from the armory, and clothes from the wardrobes of the officials, and made a dash down a populous street for the swamp, which is a mile distant. The alarm bell was sounded, and a crowd at the fair grounds, which saw them running, joined in the chase, and a battle with pistols and rifles ensued. Strange as it may seem, none of the pursuers were shot, but the convicts were not so fortunate, and when the smoke cleared away one man was found dead and the other six badly wounded. The abuses complained of were summed up in the words of the protest: "substitution of tynch law in Southern States in the case of negroes charged with crime in place of constitutional proceedings."  Equally vigorous speeches were delivered by Walter H. H. Eurr, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Powers and others. Mr. Powers said the colored race "seems to be in the condition the Children of Israel were in in Egypt when the Lord told Moses to go down there and tell Pharaoh to tet my people go."
